

SPECIAL PROJECT UPDATE:

THE PENTAGON ATHLETIC CENTER

NEW ATHLETIC CENTER WILL BE READY BY SPRING!

February 2, 2004: The construction of the new Pentagon Athletic Center (PAC) is approaching completion. Current efforts are focused on completing the final finishes and providing testing and training on the many systems. Deliveries of all-new athletic equipment has begun and assembly of this equipment will continue until the targeted opening of late March.

Continuous coordination and communication between the future tenants, the many specialty installers, and the construction team is helping to ensure the success of this project.

INDOOR RUNNING TRACK

This photo shows workers applying the surface for the 1/9-mile running track which will be suspended above the basketball courts.

BASKETBALL COURTS

A view of the full-size basketball court, which features six retractable baskets for smaller practice courts. The suspended running track can also be seen in this photo.

SWIMMING POOL

The PAC will have a six-lane, olympic-sized swimming pool. Workers have completed the structure and water testing on the pool and are preparing for the initial fill.
